BARONESS TONGE

Welcomes Updated Limb Loss Patient Pathway

Baroness Tonge says: “I welcome this proactive and innovative initiative to produce an Updated Limb Loss Patient Pathway in order to better inform the patient about their healthcare pathway for limb loss”

Building on the excellent and collaborative work of the Prosthetic Strategic Supply Group this document again captures collaboratively on a single page the limb loss patient pathway, which should help to better inform individuals of all ages with or about to endure limb loss.

Baroness Tonge added: “The sharing of this document in this way should help the individual, their family and friends better understand prepare and manage the many challenges of rehabilitation and re-ablement back to as normal a life as is possible” and “I am sure in the knowledge, that given the skills and experience of our healthcare professionals within the specialist rehabilitation and re-ablement disability service centres, that all individuals will be expertly guided through the many challenges and choices as they work to improve their individual outcome and Quality of Life.”

Further development of the Pathway is looked forward to in collaboration with the Department of Health, Providers, and Allied Health Professionals. A copy of the document is available on www.apllg.eu/9.html.
